

Tex.gov, Nueces County's filing portal, will cease to do business on November 30, 2013. Since no information will be accessible after that date, the District Clerk's Office will stop accepting filing from Tex.gov on November 25, 2013. Beginning on that same day, (November 25, 2013), all those wishing to electronically file with the Nueces County Courts must now use TexFile, the unified statewide electronic court filing portal. For answers to any of your questions concerning TexFile, please visit their web page at www.textfile.com.
